UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
 NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
 SAN FRANCISCO DIVISION

ROSMINAH BROWN and ERIC LOHELA, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

THE HAIN CELESTIAL GROUP, INC., a
 Delaware Corporation,

Defendant.

Case No. C 11-03082 LB

CLASS ACTION

FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT

1 reasonably believed the front of the label – that the Product was either completely or at least 2 mostly organic. Had Brown known that the Product was made from a significant amount of non-
3 organic ingredients, Brown would not have bought the Product at all, or would not have paid more 4 for the Product than the cost of other non-organic facial washes.

5 6. Plaintiff Eric Lohela is a resident of California and purchased an Avalon 6 Organics® Product. On or about December 2009, Lohela purchased an Avalon Organics®
7 Lavender Hand and Body Lotion from an online retailer, Vitacost.com. The website included a
8 photograph of the product’s front label as well as the Product’s name, both of which prominently
9 display the word “Organics.” The front label of the Product also includes a pledge by Defendant
10 that the Product is “pro-organic.” Lohela reviewed both the photograph of the label and the name
11 of the Product prior to his purchase. At the time of purchase, Lohela reasonably believed the front
12 of the label – that the Product was either completely or at least mostly organic. Had Lohela
13 known that the Product was made from a significant amount of non-organic ingredients, Lohela
14 would not have bought the Product at all, or would not have paid more for the Product than the 15 cost of other non-organic hand and body lotions. Also on or about December 2009, Lohela
16 purchased a number of other Avalon Organics Products in reliance on the same representations
17 identified with regard to the Lavender Hand and Body Lotion including: (1) Avalon Organics
18 Glycerin Liquid Hand Soap Lemon; (2) Avalon Organics Vitamin C Soothing Lip Balm; (3)
19 Avalon Organics Vitamin C Refreshing Facial Cleanser; (4) Avalon Organics Botanicals 20 Exfoliating Enzyme Scrub Lavender; (5) Avalon Organics Peppermint Botanicals Shampoo; and 21 (6) Avalon Organics Awapuhi Mango Moisturizing Conditioner. Had Lohela known that the 22 Product was made from a significant amount of non-organic ingredients, Lohela would not have 23 bought the Product at all, or would not have paid more for the Product than the cost of other 24 similar products.

25 7. Defendant Hain Celestial Group, Inc. is a Delaware limited corporation with its 26 principal place of business in Melville, New York. Defendant advertises, markets, distributes and 27 sells the Products in California.

28

1 apply to cosmetic products, the federal definition of what constitutes organic products has helped 2 to shape consumer expectations over the past twenty years. California law, which does apply to 3 cosmetic products including the Products, is consistent with the federal law regarding organic food 4 in that cosmetic products advertised, marketed, sold, labeled and/or represented as organic in 5 California must be comprised of at least 70% organic ingredients. COPA provides a legislative 6 determination that any cosmetic product that does not contain at least 70% organic ingredients, but 7 is represented as organic, is deceptive. Thus both federal and California law are consistent with 8 consumer expectations regarding the nature and constitution of multi-ingredient products sold, 9 labeled, marketed, advertised and/or represented as organic.

10 13. Defendant advertises, markets and labels the Products as organic. The Products are 11 all intended be rubbed, poured, sprinkled, or sprayed on, introduced into, or otherwise applied to,
12 the human body, or any part of the human body, for cleansing, beautifying, promoting 13 attractiveness, or altering the appearance, and are thus “cosmetics” under California law. Cal.
14 Health & Safety Code § 109900.

15 14. In recognition of the fact that consumers will pay more for organic products, 16 Defendant prominently places the word “organic” on the top of the front of every label of the 17 Products. Jason® branded Products are all labeled as “Pure, Natural & Organic,” while Avalon 18 Organics® branded Products all have “Organics” in the actual name of the Product and include a 19 pledge on the front label of the Products that such Products are “pro-organic.” Nevertheless, the 20 Products are largely comprised of ingredients which Defendant admits are not organic.

21 15. While prominently displaying the word “organic” on the front label of every 22 Product, Defendant also includes an ingredient list in small print on the back label of each 23 Product. The list of ingredients is in a substantially smaller font than the text on the front label.
24 The list of ingredients identifies the ingredients which are organically produced with an asterisk
25 (*). Based on Defendant’s own ingredient list, the ingredients designated on the list of ingredients
26 do not comprise 70% or more of the Products by weight and/or volume.

27 16. For example, the Jason® Ester-C® Super-C Cleanser® Gentle Facial Wash
28 purchased by Brown states on the front label that the Product is “PURE, NATURAL &

1 ORGANIC.” However, the list of ingredients on the back label of the Product identifies the 2 following ingredients in the following order:

3 Aqua (Purified Water), Decyl Glucoside, Cocamidopropyl Hydroxysultaine,
4 Sodium Lauroyl Sarcosinate, Vegetable Glycerin, Ester-C® Calcium
5 Ascorbate, Ester-C® Sorbitol (and) Glycerine (and) Calcium Ascorbate,
6 Citrus Aurantium Dulcis (Orange) Fruit Extract, Tocopheryl Acetate
7 (Vit.E), Aloe Barbadensis (Aloe Vera) Leaf Gel*, Ascorbic Acid (Vit.C), 8 Di-Steareth-75 IPDI, Polysorbate 20, Citric Acid, Benzyl Alcohol, 9 Potassium Sorbate, Sodium Benzoate, Bixa Orellana (Annatto) Extract,
10 Fragrance Oil Blend.

11 *Certified Organic

12 Thus, of the nineteen ingredients listed on the back label, only one is certified organic by 13 Defendant’s own admission. The sole organic ingredient, the Aloe Barbadensis (Aloe Vera) Leaf 14 Gel, is not even the most prominent of the nineteen ingredients. Rather, it ranks ninth on the 15 ingredient list (excluding water) in terms of its predominance in the Product.¹

16 17. Similarly, the Avalon Organics® Lavender Hand and Body Lotion purchased by 17 Lohela states on the front of the label that the Product is organic and contains a pledge that the 18 Product is “pro-organic.” However, the list of ingredients on the back label of the Product 19 identifies the following ingredients in the following order:

20 Purified Water, cyclopentasiloxane, cetearyl alcohol, polysorbate 60,
21 organic helianthus annuus (sunflower) oil⁽¹⁾, cetyl alcohol, vegetable
22 glycerin, sorbitol, stearyl alcohol, dimethicone, organic lavandula
23 angustifolia (lavender) flower⁽¹⁾, calendula officinalis (calendula) flower⁽¹⁾
24 and chamomilla recutita (chamomile) flower⁽²⁾ extracts,
25 babassuamidopropalkonium chloride, bisabolol (chamomile), organic
26 theobroma cacao (cocoa butter)⁽¹⁾, organic linum usitatissimum (flaxseed)

27 _____
28 ¹ Ingredient lists on cosmetic products such as the Products are legally required to list the ingredients in descending order of predominance. 21 C.F.R. § 701.3.

1 and cocos nucifera (coconut) oils⁽¹⁾, sodium chloride, beta-glucan (oat),
2 ethylhexylglycerin, arginine (amino acid), stearic acid, organic lavandula
3 angustifolia (lavender) oil⁽³⁾ and other essential oils.

4 (1) Certified by Quality Assurance International

5 (2) Certified by BCS Öko-Garantie

6 (3) Certified by International Certification Services

7 Thus, of the twenty-two ingredients contained in the Product, only five are actually organic.

8 None of the top three most prominent ingredients (excluding water) are organic, and the organic
9 ingredients rank fourth, tenth, thirteenth, fourteenth, and nineteenth on the ingredient list
10 (excluding water and salt) in terms of their predominance in the Product.

11 18. COPA includes strict, objective standards regarding what constitutes an organic 12 cosmetic product. Under COPA, “cosmetic products sold, labeled, or represented as organic or 13 made with organic ingredients shall contain, at least 70 percent organically produced ingredients.”
14 Health & Safety Code § 110838(a). Calculating the percentage of organically produced 15 ingredients under COPA is straightforward. For products that are sold in solid form, the 16 percentage of organic ingredients is calculated by dividing the weight of the organic ingredients
17 over the total weight of the product excluding the weight of water and salt. Id. at § 110838(b).
18 For products that are sold in liquid form, the percentage of organic ingredients is calculated by 19 dividing the fluid volume of the organic ingredients by the fluid volume of the product as a whole
20 excluding water and salt. Ibid. Products that contain less than 70% organic ingredients may only 21 identify the organic content of the product in one of two ways: (1) by identifying the particular 22 organic ingredients by way of an asterisk or similar marker; or (2) by displaying the product’s
23 percentage of organic content on the information panel of the label. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 24 110839.

25 19. Under COPA, “sold as organic” means “any use of the term ‘organic,’ ‘organically 26 grown,’ or grammatical variations of those terms, whether orally or in writing, in connection with 27 any product grown, handled, processed, sold, or offered for sale in this state, including, but not 28 limited to, any use of these terms in labeling or advertising of any product and any ingredient in a

1 multi-ingredient product.” Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110815(k). Here, the Products are “sold
2 as organic” pursuant to COPA as they are advertised and labeled as “organic” and sold in 3 California.

4 20. Given that the only organic ingredient in the Jason® Face Wash Product, the Aloe
5 Barbadensis (Aloe Vera) Leaf Gel, is merely the ninth most predominant ingredient in such 6 Product exclusive of water, organic ingredients cannot possibly make up more than 11% of the 7 Product, far less than the 70% required under COPA. Accordingly, Defendant has violated
8 COPA. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110890(a).

9 21. Given that the only organic ingredients in the Avalon Organics® Lavender Hand
10 and Body Lotion are merely the fourth, tenth, thirteenth, fourteenth, and nineteenth most 11 predominant ingredients in such Product exclusive of water and salt, organic ingredients cannot 12 possibly make up more than 28% of the Product, far less than the 70% required under COPA.
13 Accordingly, Defendant has violated COPA. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110890(a).

14 22. The Jason® Face Wash Product and Avalon Organics® Lavender Hand and Body
15 Lotion are representative of other Jason® and Avalon Organics® Products that, by Defendant’s 16 own admissions, contain far less than 70% organic ingredients yet are labeled as “organic.” For 17 example:

- 18 a. Baby Avalon Organics® Silky Cornstarch Baby Powder is labeled as 19 “organics,” yet only two of the seven ingredients in the Product are, by 20 Defendant’s admission, organic and those two ingredients are only the third and 21 fourth most predominant ingredients in the Product.
- 22 b. Jason® Aloe Vera Soothing Body Scrub is labeled as “organic,” yet lists only 23 two of the twenty-three ingredients as “organic” and those two are only the 24 twelfth and fourteenth most predominant.
- 25 c. Jason® Thin to Thick Extra Volume Conditioner is also labeled as “organic,” 26 yet only four of the thirty-one ingredients are organic, none of which ranks 27 higher than thirteenth in terms of its predominance in the Product.
- 28 d. Jason® PowerSmile All-Natural Whitening Toothpaste is also labeled as

1 “organic,” yet only one of fourteen ingredients is organic and that ingredient is 2 the seventh most predominant ingredient in the Product.

3 e. Jason® Curl Defining Cream is similarly labeled as “organic,” yet only one of 4 the seventeen ingredients is organic and that ingredient is the sixth most 5 predominant ingredient in the Product.

6 f. Avalon Organics Grapefruit & Geranium Refreshing Shampoo is labeled as 7 “organic” and contains Defendant’s pledge that the product is “pro-organic,”
8 yet only five of the twenty-four ingredients are organic and those ingredients 9 are the ninth, twelfth and twenty-first most predominant ingredients in the 10 Product.

11 23. The examples set forth above are only a few of the Products that make up
12 Defendant’s pattern and practice of selling Products as “organic” when in fact the Products do not 13 come close to meeting the COPA requirements for organic cosmetic products. The determination
14 of whether the Products are comprised predominantly of organic ingredients is an objective
15 determination that may be calculated by dividing the total weight or volume of the organic 16 ingredients by the total weight or volume of the total ingredients. Plaintiffs do not dispute whether 17 the specific ingredients Defendant identifies as organic are indeed organic. Rather, Plaintiffs 18 allege that, even accepting that the ingredients Defendant identifies as organic are indeed organic,
19 the Products are not comprised predominantly of organic ingredients.

20 24. Defendant’s ongoing practice of labeling the Products as organic, when in fact, the 21 Products are not predominantly organic is likely to deceive ordinary consumers of the Products
22 and has in fact deceived Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs reasonably understood the labeling of the Products to 23 mean what they say – that the Products are organic. Plaintiffs did not pour over the fine print on 24 the back labels to determine which of the specific ingredients contained in the Products are 25 organic. Rather, based on the label claim that the Products are organic, Plaintiffs reasonably 26 believed that the Products are predominantly made with organic ingredients. In reliance on 27 Defendant’s claims that the Products are organic, Plaintiffs were willing to pay more for the 28 Products than similar products that do not claim to be organic, and in fact did pay a premium for

1 the Products. Given Plaintiffs' preference for organic cosmetic products, Plaintiffs would benefit
2 if Defendant reformulated the Products such that they are predominantly comprised of organic
3 ingredients.

4 25. Defendant's practice of misrepresenting the organic nature of the Products is part of 5 what Defendant refers to as its "uniform marketing, advertising and distribution program" and its 6 "unified marketing strategy" that Defendant employs across its different brands including both 7 Jason and Avalon Organics.

8 26. Defendant asserts that it began the process of coming into compliance with COPA
9 at or about the time the original complaint was filed in this action. However, recent investigation
10 reveals that the Products continue to be sold as organic, when such Products do not contain at least 11 70% organic ingredients.

12 27. Furthermore, Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Defendant is using misleading 13 and deceptive practices that violate COPA in its efforts to comply with COPA. Subsequent to the 14 filing of this action, Defendant began labeling some of the Products as containing 70% organic 15 ingredients as part of Defendant's efforts to comply with COPA. Specifically, Plaintiffs are 16 informed and believe that Defendant purports to exceed the 70% organic ingredient requirement
17 by including water in calculating the percentage of organic ingredients. Under COPA, the weight
18 of water, including water used to reconstitute a dehydrate, must be excluded from the calculation 19 of organic ingredients. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that Defendant includes the entire 20 weight of reconstituted ingredients in its calculations that result in its representations that the 21 Products contain 70% organic content. As the United States Department of Agriculture has found 22 in promulgating organic food regulations, "If an organically produced dehydrated spice is 23 reconstituted with water prior to product assembly, the spice must still be calculated at its 24 dehydrated weight because percentage calculations are based on the ingredient weight, excluding 25 water and salt. It would be misleading to calculate the weight of the concentrate ingredient in its 26 reconstituted form." 65 Fed. Reg. 80548-01, 80586 (December 21, 2000). These regulations have 27 been incorporated into COPA. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110811. Excluding added water and 28 salt from the calculation of organic ingredients comports with consumer expectations, as

1 consumers would not expect a product to be organic on the basis of added water.

2 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

3 28. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, Plaintiffs bring this action on 4 behalf of herself and the following class of similarly situated individuals:

5 All persons who purchased the Products that were sold under the Jason® or Avalon
6 Organics® brand in California during the applicable statute of limitations.

7 Specifically excluded from this Class are Defendant; the officers, directors or 8 employees of Defendant; any entity in which Defendant has a controlling interest;
9 and any affiliate, legal representative, heir or assign of Defendant. Also excluded
10 are any federal, state or local governmental entities, any judicial officer presiding 11 over this action and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, and 12 any juror assigned to this action.

13 (the “Class”).

14 29. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, Brown brings this action on behalf 15 of herself and the following class of similarly situated individuals:

16 All persons who purchased the Products that were sold under the Jason®
17 brand in California during the applicable statute of limitations.

18 Specifically excluded from this Class are Defendant; the officers, directors
19 or employees of Defendant; any entity in which Defendant has a
20 controlling interest; and any affiliate, legal representative, heir or assign of 21 Defendant. Also excluded are any federal, state or local governmental 22 entities, any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of 23 his/her immediate family and judicial staff, and any juror assigned to this
24 action.

25 (the “Jason Subclass”).

26 30. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, Lohela brings this action on behalf 27 of himself and the following class of similarly situated individuals:

28 All persons who purchased the Products that were sold under the Avalon

1 Organics® brand in California during the applicable statute of limitations.
2 Specifically excluded from this Class are Defendant; the officers, directors
3 or employees of Defendant; any entity in which Defendant has a
4 controlling interest; and any affiliate, legal representative, heir or assign of
5 Defendant. Also excluded are any federal, state or local governmental 6 entities, any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of 7 his/her immediate family and judicial staff, and any juror assigned to this
8 action.

9 (the “Avalon Subclass”). The Class, the Jason Subclass and the Avalon Subclass are referred to 10 collectively herein as the “Class” or “Classes.”

11 31. Each Class is sufficiently numerous, as it includes thousands of persons who have 12 purchased the Products. Plaintiffs are unable to state the precise number of potential members of 13 the proposed Classes because that information is in the possession of Defendant. However, the 14 number of members in each proposed Class is so numerous that joinder would be impracticable 15 for purposes of Rule 23(a)(1). The exact size of each proposed Class and the identity of its 16 members will be readily ascertainable from the business records of Defendant and Defendant’s 17 retailers as well as Class members’ own records. The disposition of the claims of the members of 18 the Classes in this class action will substantially benefit both the parties and the Court.

19 32. There is a community of interest among the members of the proposed Classes in 20 that there are questions of law and fact common to the proposed Classes for purposes of Rule
21 23(a)(2), including whether Defendant’s labels, advertisements and packaging include uniform
22 misrepresentations that misled Plaintiffs and the other members of the Classes to believe the 23 Products were predominantly made with organic ingredients. Proof of a common set of facts will 24 establish the liability of Defendant and the right of each member of the Classes to relief.

25 33. Plaintiffs assert claims that are typical of the claims of the Classes for purposes of 26 Rule 23(a)(3). Plaintiffs and all members of the Class have been subjected to the same wrongful 27 conduct because they have purchased the Products that are labeled and sold as organic, but, in fact,
28 are not. Plaintiffs and the other members of the Classes have thus all overpaid for the Products.

1 34. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the other
2 members of the Classes for purposes of Rule 23(a)(4). Plaintiffs have no interests antagonistic to 3 those of other members of the Classes. Plaintiffs are committed to the vigorous prosecution of this 4 action and have retained counsel experienced in litigation of this nature to represent them.
5 Plaintiffs anticipate no difficulty in the management of this litigation as a class action.

6 35. Class certification is appropriate under Rule 23(b)(2) because Defendant has acted 7 on grounds that apply generally to the Classes, so that final injunctive relief or corresponding 8 declaratory relief, is appropriate respecting the Classes as a whole. Defendant utilizes advertising 9 campaigns that include uniform misrepresentations that misled Plaintiffs and the other members of 10 the Classes.

11 36. Class certification is appropriate under Rule 23(b)(3) because common questions of 12 law and fact substantially predominate over any questions that may affect only individual 13 members of the Classes. These common legal and factual questions, which do not vary among 14 Class members and which may be determined without reference to the individual circumstances of 15 any Class member include, but are not limited to the following:

- 16 a. whether Defendant labels, advertises and markets the Products by 17 representing that the Products are “organic”;
- 18 b. whether the Products are comprised predominantly with organically 19 produced ingredients;
- 20 c. whether the Products are comprised of at least 70% organically produced
21 ingredients;
- 22 d. whether Defendant’s representations on the ingredient labels of the Products 23 that less than 70% of the ingredients are organic is a binding admission on 24 Defendant that the Products contain less than 70% organic ingredients;
- 25 e. whether Defendant’s sales of Products as organic that contain less than 70%
26 organic ingredients violates Health & Safety Code § 110838;
- 27 f. whether Plaintiffs are entitled to injunctive relief pursuant to Health & 28 Safety Code § 111910 to restrain Defendant’s ongoing violations of COPA;

- 1 g. whether Defendant's conduct is unethical, oppressive, unscrupulous, and/or 2 substantially injurious to consumers;
- 3 h. whether Defendant's conduct of selling Products as "organic" when such 4 Products are not predominantly comprised of organic ingredients is likely 5 to deceive the members of the Classes;
- 6 i. whether Defendant's conduct in advertising and marketing the Products
7 constitutes a violation of the CLRA;
- 8 j. whether Defendant's conduct constitutes fraudulent, unfair, or unlawful 9 conduct as defined by the UCL;
- 10 k. whether Plaintiffs and Class members are entitled to injunctive and other 11 equitable relief based on Defendant's violations of the UCL and CLRA;
- 12 l. whether Defendant's representations concerning the Products constitute 13 express warranties with regard to the Products pursuant to California Civil 14 Code § 2313;
- 15 m. whether Defendant breached the express warranties it has made with regard 16 to the Products;
- 17 n. whether Plaintiffs and the other members of the Classes are entitled to 18 damages resulting from Defendant's breach of the express warranties made 19 regarding the Products; and
- 20 o. whether Plaintiffs and the other members of the Class are entitled to 21 compensatory and punitive damages as a result of Defendant's violations of 22 the CLRA.

23 Defendant utilizes advertisements and packaging that include uniform misrepresentations that 24 misled Plaintiffs and the other members of the Classes. Thus, there is a well-defined community 25 of interest in the questions of law and fact involved in this action and affecting the parties.

26 37. Proceeding as a class action provides substantial benefits to both the parties and the 27 Court because this is the most efficient method for the fair and efficient adjudication of the 28 controversy. Class members have suffered and will suffer irreparable harm and damages as a

1 result of Defendant's wrongful conduct. Because of the nature of the individual Class members'
 2 claims, few, if any, could or would otherwise afford to seek legal redress against Defendant for the 3 wrongs complained of herein, and a representative class action is therefore appropriate, the 4 superior method of proceeding, and essential to the interests of justice insofar as the resolution of 5 Class members' claims is concerned. Absent a representative class action, members of the Classes
 6 would continue to suffer losses for which they would have no remedy, and Defendant would 7 unjustly retain the proceeds of its ill-gotten gains. Even if separate actions could be brought by 8 individual members of the Class, the resulting multiplicity of lawsuits would cause undue
 9 hardship, burden and expense for the Court and the litigants, as well as create a risk of inconsistent
 10 rulings which might be dispositive of the interests of the other members of the Classes who are not 11 parties to the adjudications and/or may substantially impede their ability to protect their interests.

12 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
 13 (Plaintiffs Allege Violations of COPA – 14 Injunctive Relief Pursuant to California Health & Safety Code § 111910(a))

14 38. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference as if specifically set forth herein
 15 Paragraphs 1 through 37, inclusive.

16 39. Plaintiffs are each a "person" within the meaning of Cal. Health & Safety Code § 17 111910(a).

18 40. Defendant has violated and continues to violate the provisions of COPA, Cal.
 19 Health & Safety Code § 110838, as described above.

20 41. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 111910(a) provides for injunctive relief for any 21 violation of COPA and affords standing to "any person" to enforce such violations. That Section 22 provides, in part:

23 any person may bring an action in superior court pursuant to this section 24 and the court shall have jurisdiction upon hearing and for cause shown, to 25 grant a temporary or permanent injunction restraining any person from 26 violating any provision of Article 7 (commencing with Section 110810) of 27 Chapter 5.

28 Ibid. That Section further provides that actions for injunctive relief to remedy violations of COPA are not subject to all of the same restrictions as other actions for injunctive relief. Specifically, the person shall not be required to allege facts necessary to show, or tending to show, lack of adequate remedy at law, or to show, or tending to 1 show, irreparable damage or loss, or to show, or tending to show, unique or special individual injury or damages.

2 Ibid.

3 42. Plaintiffs are thus entitled to both preliminary and permanent injunctive relief to 4 restrain Defendant's violations of COPA. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 111910(a).

5 Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendant, as set forth hereafter.

6 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
7 (Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and the Classes, Allege Violations of
8 California Business & Professions Code § 17200, et seq.
9 Based on Commission of Unlawful Acts)

10 43. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference as if specifically set forth herein
11 Paragraphs 1 through 42, inclusive.

12 44. The violation of any law constitutes an unlawful business practice under Cal.
13 Business & Professions Code § 17200.

14 45. As detailed more fully in the preceding paragraphs, Defendant has violated and 15 continues to violate provisions of COPA, specifically Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110838(a).
16 Such violations are unlawful pursuant to Cal. Health & Safety Code § 110890(a).

17 46. As detailed more fully in the succeeding paragraphs, the acts and practices alleged 18 herein were intended to or did result in the sale of the Products in violation of the CLRA, Cal. Civ.
19 Code § 1750, et seq., specifically Cal. Civil Code §§ 1770(a)(5), 1770(a)(7), and 1770(a)(9).

20 47. Defendant's conduct also violates Cal. Health & Safety Code § 111730, which 21 prohibits the sale of any misbranded cosmetic product. The Products, which contain labeling that 22 falsely state that the Products are organic, are "false and misleading in any particular" in violation 23 of Cal. Health & Safety Code § 111730.

24 48. Defendant's conduct also violates Cal. Business & Professions Code § 17580.5, 25 which makes it unlawful for any person to make any untruthful, deceptive, or misleading 26 environmental marketing claim. By misrepresenting that the Products are organic, Defendant is 27 violating Cal. Business & Professions Code § 17580.5.

28 49. By violating the CLRA, COPA, Cal. Health & Safety Code § 111730 and Cal.
Business & Professions Code § 17580.5, Defendant has engaged in unlawful business acts and

1 practices which constitute unfair competition within the meaning of Cal. Business & Professions
2 Code § 17200.

3 50. An action for injunctive relief and restitution is specifically authorized under Cal.
4 Business & Professions Code § 17203.

5 51. Plaintiffs purchased the Products, which cost more due to Defendant's unlawful use
6 of the term "organic" on the Products' label. Plaintiffs would not have purchased the Products at 7 all, or would not have paid such a high price for the Products, but for Defendant's false use of the 8 term organic on the Products' label. Plaintiffs have thus suffered injury in fact and lost money or 9 property as a direct result of Defendant's misrepresentations and material omissions.

10 Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendant, as set forth hereafter.

11 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
12 (Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and the Classes, Allege Violations of 13 California Business & Professions Code § 17200, et seq.
14 Based On Fraudulent Acts And Practices)

15 52. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference as if specifically set forth herein
16 Paragraphs 1 through 51, inclusive.

17 53. Under Cal. Business & Professions Code § 17200, any business act or practice that 18 is likely to deceive members of the public constitutes a fraudulent business act or practice.

19 54. Defendant has engaged and continues to engage in conduct that is likely to deceive 20 members of the public. This conduct includes, but is not limited to, misrepresenting that the 21 Products are organic when, in fact, the Products are not comprised predominantly of organic
22 ingredients. Accordingly, Defendant's violations of COPA are per se deceptive under California 23 law.

24 55. After reviewing the front label of the packaging for the Products, Brown purchased 25 the Jason® Facial Wash Product in reliance on Defendant's representation that the Product was 26 organic. After reviewing a photograph of the Product's front label and the Product's name, Lohela
27 purchased the Avalon Organics® Lavender Hand and Body Lotion in reliance on Defendant's 28 representation that the Product was organic. Plaintiffs would not have purchased the Products at all, or would not have paid such a high price for the Products, but for Defendant's false promotion

1 of the Products as organic. Plaintiffs have thus suffered injury in fact and lost money or property
2 as a direct result of Defendant's misrepresentations and material omissions.

3 56. By committing the acts alleged above, Defendant has engaged in fraudulent
4 business acts and practices, which constitute unfair competition within the meaning of Cal.
5 Business & Professions Code § 17200.

6 57. An action for injunctive relief and restitution is specifically authorized under Cal.
7 Business & Professions Code § 17203.

8 Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendant, as set forth hereafter.

9 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
10 (Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and the Classes, Allege Violations of 11 California Business & Professions Code § 17200, et seq.
12 Based on Unfair Acts and Practices)

13 58. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference as if specifically set forth herein
14 Paragraphs 1 through 57, inclusive.

15 59. Under Cal. Business & Professions Code § 17200, any business act or practice that 16 is unethical, oppressive, unscrupulous and/or substantially injurious to consumers, or that violates 17 a legislatively declared policy, constitutes an unfair business act or practice.

18 60. Defendant has engaged, and continues to engage, in conduct which is immoral,
19 unethical, oppressive, unscrupulous and/or substantially injurious to consumers. This conduct 20 includes, but is not limited to, misrepresenting that the Products are organic, even though such 21 Products are not organic under California law. The gravity of harm caused by Defendant's 22 conduct as described herein far outweighs the utility, if any, of such conduct.

23 61. Defendant has engaged, and continues to engage, in conduct that violates the 24 legislatively declared policy of COPA against labeling and representing that cosmetic products are 25 organic unless such products are comprised of at least 70% organic ingredients. Defendant has 26 further engaged, and continues to engage, in conduct that violates the legislatively declared policy 27 of the CLRA against misrepresenting the characteristics, uses, benefits, and quality of goods for 28 sale; the legislatively declared policy of the Sherman Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act by selling misbranded cosmetic products; the legislatively declared policy of Cal. Business & Professions

1 Code § 17580.5 against making false or misleading environmental advertising claims; and the 2 legislatively declared policy of California Commercial Code § 2313 against breaching express
3 warranties made with regard to consumer products. Defendant gains an unfair advantage over its 4 competitors, whose advertising for cosmetics must comply with the CLRA, the Federal Trade
5 Commission Act (“FTC Act”), and Cal. Business & Professions Code § 17508.

6 62. Defendant’s conduct, including misrepresenting the benefits of the Products, is 7 substantially injurious to consumers. Such conduct has and continues to cause substantial injury
8 to consumers because consumers would not have purchased the Products at all, or would not have 9 paid such a high price for the Products, but for Defendant’s false promotion of the Products as 10 being organic. Consumers have thus overpaid for the Products. Such injury is not outweighed by 11 any countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. Indeed, no benefit to consumers or 12 competition results from Defendant’s conduct. Since consumers reasonably rely on Defendant’s
13 representations of the Products and injury results from ordinary use of the Products, consumers
14 could not have reasonably avoided such injury. Davis v. Ford Motor Credit Co. (2009) 179 Cal.
15 App. 4th 581, 597-98; see also Drum v. San Fernando Valley Bar Ass’n (2010) 182 Cal. App. 4th 16 247, 257 (outlining the third test based on the definition of “unfair” in Section 5 of the FTC Act).

17 63. By committing the acts alleged above, Defendant has engaged in unfair business
18 acts and practices which constitute unfair competition within the meaning of Cal. Business &
19 Professions Code § 17200.

20 64. An action for injunctive relief and restitution is specifically authorized under Cal.
21 Business & Professions Code § 17203.

22 65. Plaintiffs purchased the Products in reliance on Defendant’s representations that the 23 Products were organic. Plaintiffs would not have purchased the Products at all, or would not have 24 paid such a high price for the Products, but for Defendant’s false promotion that the Products are 25 organic. Plaintiffs have thus suffered injury in fact and lost money or property as a direct result of 26 Defendant’s misrepresentations and material omissions.

27 Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendant, as set forth hereafter.
28

1 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
2 (Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and the Classes,
3 Allege Violations of the CLRA)

4 66. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference as if specifically set forth herein
5 Paragraphs 1 through 65, inclusive.

6 67. Plaintiffs purchased the Products for their own personal use.

7 68. The acts and practices of Defendant as described above were intended to deceive
8 Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes as described herein, and have resulted and will result in 9 damages to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes. These actions violated and continue to violate 10 the CLRA in at least the following respects:

11 a. In violation of Section 1770(a)(5) of the CLRA, Defendant's acts and 12 practices constitute representations that the Products have characteristics, uses and/or benefits 13 which they do not;

14 b. In violation of Section 1770(a)(7) of the CLRA, Defendant's acts and 15 practices constitute representations that the Products are of a particular quality which they are not; 16 and

17 c. In violation of Section 1770(a)(9) of the CLRA, Defendant's acts and 18 practices constitute the advertisement of the goods in question without the intent to sell them as 19 advertised.

20 69. By reason of the foregoing, Plaintiffs and the Class members have suffered 21 damages.

22 70. By committing the acts alleged above, Defendant violated the CLRA.

23 71. In compliance with the provisions of Cal. Civil Code § 1782, Plaintiff Brown 24 provided written notice to Defendant on May 11, 2011, regarding her intention to amend the 25 Complaint to seek damages under Cal. Civil Code § 1750, et seq. As of the date of this amended
26 complaint, Defendant has failed to provide appropriate consideration or other remedy to all 27 affected consumers.

28 72. In compliance with the provisions of Cal. Civil Code § 1782, Plaintiff Lohela provided written notice to Defendant on May 4, 2012, regarding his intention to seek damages

1 under Cal. Civil Code § 1750, et seq., unless Defendant offers appropriate consideration or other
2 remedy to all affected consumers. As of the date of this amended complaint, Defendant has failed
3 to provide appropriate consideration or other remedy to all affected consumers.

4 73. Plaintiffs and members of the Classes are entitled, pursuant to Cal. Civil Code §
5 1780(1)(2), to an order enjoining the above-described wrongful acts and practices of Defendant, 6 and ordering the payment of costs and attorneys' fees and any other relief deemed appropriate and 7 proper by the Court under Cal. Civil Code § 1780. Plaintiffs also seek damages on behalf of 8 themselves and the Classes pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 1781(a) resulting from the above-
9 described wrongful acts and practices of Defendant.

10 74. Concurrently with filing the original Complaint in Alameda County Superior Court, 11 Plaintiff Brown filed an affidavit pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 1780(d) regarding the propriety of 12 venue. Although this case was subsequently removed to this District, venue remains proper
13 pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 1780(d) as a substantial portion of the transactions at issue occurred 14 in this District.

15 Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendant, as set forth hereafter.

16 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

17 (Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and the Classes, Allege
18 Violations of California Commercial Code § 2313
19 Based on Breach of Express Warranty)

20 75. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference as if specifically set forth herein
21 Paragraphs 1 through 74, inclusive.

22 76. Defendant's representations that the Products are organic constitute affirmations of 23 fact made with regard to the Products as well as descriptions of the Products.

24 77. Defendant's representations that the Products are organic are made on the Products'
25 labels, Defendant's website promoting the Products, advertising for the Products and Product 26 promotions, and are thus part of the basis of the bargain between Defendant and purchasers of the 27 Products.

28 78. As set forth in the paragraphs above, Defendant's statements concerning the Products are false.

1 this Complaint;

2 H. That the Court award damages to Plaintiffs and the Classes to compensate
3 them for Defendant's breach of the express warranties created with regard to the Products;

4 I. That the Court grant Plaintiffs their reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of 5 suit pursuant to Cal. Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5, Cal. Civil Code § 1780(d), Cal. Health &
6 Safety Code § 111910(b), the common fund doctrine and/or any other appropriate legal theory;

7 J. That the Court award damages to Plaintiffs and the Classes pursuant to Cal.
8 Civil Code § 1781(a) resulting from Defendant's violations of the CLRA;

9 K. That the Court award punitive damages to Plaintiffs and the Classes 10 pursuant to Cal. Civil Code § 1780(a)(4); and 11 L. That the Court grant such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

12 JURY DEMAND

13 Plaintiffs demand a trial by jury on all causes of action so triable.
